The 2018 grant review panel offers the following comments after reviewing your application and hearing your presentation at our meeting:

The panel appreciates the very detailed planning and work the YCHC has put into their museum project.

The panel is also impressed at financial planning and performance in exceeding capital campaign, maintaining the annual fund, and raising strategic capital cash to off-set operating deficit.

The panel acknowledges the concern of the museum industry in general in presenting content in the tech world we live in today, and the challenges of engaging new generations of audience members.
